ELEMENTAL

The Nottingham Photographers' Hub is hosting a unique art event showcasing the work of photographic artists. 'Elemental' is inspired by the four elements.

Cam-Era is a small group of artists based in Nottingham. They have come together to commemorate Mental Health Awareness Week, each having experienced mental distress themselves and thus being in a position to potentially edify others whether through themselves or through their work in this visual salutation. Exhibiting for one night only.

The exhibition showcases work by :

Rosa Taylor, John Wheat, Kane Alderton, Dean Edmonds, Kayrakise Evans, Samuel Hardwick, John Radmall, Richard Hlland, Martin Selby, Mark Lindsay, and Andrew Wilmot

The Nottingham Photographers' Hub is a social enterprise aiming to empower marginalised communities to develop their confidence, well-being, creativity and photography skills.

This exhibition and the photography workshops were funded by the Big Lottery Fund
